CONVENTION VISITORS TO BE INVITED

For the purpose of bringing great new industrial plants to Oakland and Eastbay cities and to promote the growth of the city as the biggest manufacturing center in Western America, the Chamber of Commerce has appointed a committee to put Oakland "on the map" at the Democratic national convention in June and the Democratic state convention in May, both held in San Francisco.

Not only will Oakland and San Francisco be entertaining and welcoming the distinguished guests, but will hold pleasure excursions to this city as well, so that the heads of great corporations and manufacturers may realize the growth of San Francisco bay enterprises. A. Mitchell Palmer, United States Attorney General, is expected to attend the convention.

Mr. J. P. Fierling, chairman of the main committee, has named the following sub-committees for the work: Invitation—F. L. Hall, chairman;

MAN BULLDOGS BUCK, SAVING WOMAN'S LIFE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Building experience acquired on a Montana cattle ranch is perhaps all that saved A. J. Rich Jr., of 2830 Union street, and an unidentified woman from being gored to death by a deer in Golden Gate Park yesterday.

While driving in the park, Rich saw a large buck dash from the brush, near the buffalo paddock, and rush down upon a woman who was standing with her back to the animal. Aiming his great horns directly at her, the beast hurled the woman to the ground and in a flash had sunk his antlers into her body. Rich grabbed the buck by the horns and tore him from the woman.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—State Senator James C. Nealon, author of the so-called orphan bill and supporter of the plan to retain the California building on the Marina as a state normal school, died suddenly at his home, 940 Haight street, from a heart attack. Senator Nealon, who represented for two terms the Twenty-first District in the Upper House, has been in poor health since the holidays. His condition was considered improved, this last week. With him at the time of his death were his two daughters, Mrs. Marie C. Henderson and Mrs. Margaret E. Hampton. He was father of the late Joseph Nealon, one of the famous ball players with the New York American League Club.

Born in County Limerick, Ireland, 71 years ago, Nealon came to this country when he was 13 and five years later arrived in San Francisco. He was elected legislator in 1883, holding the office one term. In 1917 he was elected to the legislature. Nealon won distinction in local sports as a champion handball player with the Olympic and Ironwood Clubs. He was active in the Golden Gate Thoroughbred Club and in the earlier days owned many horses, made famous by their records.

Political Field

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2.—Attorney General Palmer has declared himself as a Democratic presidential candidate, the list of aspirants for the Democratic nomination informally out in the open. WORKERS RECEIVE BONUS OF $10,000

One hundred and fifty employees of the Philadelphia Shoe Company shared a $10,000 bonus awarded by the company. B. Katschinski and Sons at the annual meeting of the company at the Oakland store, 525 Fourteenth street, last night.

From office boy to superintendent, all employees are members of the Philadelphia Shoe Company Co-operative Association. All have a voice in the policies and government.

Employees elect five of their number who serve with heads of the three departments, men's, women's and children's, as an executive committee. All enjoy, from of course, doctor, medicine and sick benefits, life insurance and vacations and all are compelled to set aside a percentage of their earnings into a savings account upon which the owners pay interest.

Last night's meeting was in honor of the first anniversary of the Oakland store. Besides the bonus distribution, B. Katschinski and Sons presented the co-operative association with a silk flag, to which all took the pledge and which will be used to open each meeting. Captain William Tucker, Spanghous-American war veteran, made the presentation speech and President Frank O'Brien responded for the association.

The San Francisco store of the Philadelphia Shoe company was established forty years ago by B. Katschinski. It is now under the active management of A. Katschinski and the Oakland store is managed by H. Katschinski.

ENGAGEMENT OF COUPLE BROKEN

Romance has bleeding white Miss Hazel Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Thomas, is en route to Florida and Urieel Murell, who had won her pledge to be his bride this spring, has left Oakland for Boston. No hint of the broken betrothal came to the friends of the popular young couple, who have dated them persistently, since the news of the engagement was told last fall, until just previous to her departure for the south last night when Miss Thomas returned the small treasures which had been showered into her bride's chest.

Miss Thomas will be absent for some months, according to her present plans. Her destination is Miami Beach. In the sudden ending of the pretty romance, she offers no explanation.

Murell is the son of Charles and Mrs. Murell. He has been employed by the firm of which his father is the head. Following the breaking off of the wedding plans, Murell resigned his position and left for Boston.

Formal announcement of betrothal was made last fall at a brilliant tea at which Mrs. Thomas and her daughter received at their home, 2029 Seventh avenue.

CHURCHES PLAN WIDE CAMPAIGN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—More than 500 pastors of all church denominations met again this morning for the second day's session of the first interdenominational conference of Clergymen of the Inter-Church World Movement of North America for Northern California in the First Congregational church here. A campaign to raise $1,000,000 for the next year's work will start April 25, it was decided.

Dr. B. Vincent of Salem talked on the foreign mission surveys of the Presbyterian church and was followed by addresses by Rev. J. C. Worley of Japan and Rev. R. H. Murphy of India. Frank English of Cleveland, Ohio, director of the hospitals and homes department of the Interchurch World Movement, spoke on the needs of hospitals and homes supported by church funds.

The denominations represented at the opening of the conference yesterday were Methodists, Baptists, Presbyterians, United Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Episcopalians, A. M. E. Zionists, Seventh Day Adventists, Church of the Brethren, United Brethren, United Evangelical Christian, Friends, Methodist Episcopal South and Lutherans.

Dr. I. N. McCash, president of Phillips University at Enid, Okla., declared in his address yesterday that churches had caused the foundation of the majority of colleges and universities in the United States. The missionary spirit was born in the American college, he declared.

The building was leased to the Bing Gong Bow Leong tong.

Woodcock Relatives, Lawyers Summoned

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Ralph W. Bull, political leader of Humboldt county and brother-in-law of Edgar Woodcock, Woodcock's attorneys and other relatives were summoned yesterday by the grand jury for investigation of the whereabouts of the missing man.

"The lawyers, except Brennan, have practically confessed that they know how to get Woodcock," declared Assistant District Attorney Golden. "Woodcock is a fugitive from justice and it is the duty of every citizen to assist in his apprehension," he continued. Woodcock is wanted for perjury in connection with his wife's trial for murder of Edgar Kelly.

Fatness Kills -31,000 Yearly

Fat is fatal to health and personality. It is estimated that over 31,000 persons die each year in the past decade alone before their allotted span of life, through the effects of excessive fatness. Any overcast man or woman is carrying unhealthy adiposity that is pressing against and impairing vital organs of the body. The brain that directs human apparatus, becomes congested. In numerous cases there are dangerous gatherings of fat cells around the heart, stomach, liver and other delicate parts. Through overeating the affected person who apparently well is liable to nervousness, neurasthenia, physical or mental collapse and other disorders, for obesity is a terrible enemy.

It is an interesting fact that a man or woman who is overfat is liable to a great many years before actual old age, simply because he or she is so fat. When Confucius Broke His Glasses

It must have been a sorry adventure for the famous old philosopher when he broke his glasses, for the Chinese, though pioneers in lens-making, cut lenses out of crystal with an iron disc and sand process of almost interminable slowness.

Nor was the length of time the only disadvantage entailed, for when a Chinese optician started out to make a lens no one, least of all the maker, could anticipate what the lens would turn out to be.

With only a fragment of your old lens to go by any Chinn-Beretta store can reproduce it with definite precision and in surprisingly quick time. Seven Chinn-Beretta stores make a specialty of duplicating broken lenses.

WAR JOBS STOP, 5000 BEGIN RIOT

LONDON, March 2.—Police and government authorities said they did not attach great importance to yesterday's rioting near the House of Commons, in which fifty men, including police, were slightly injured. Fighting occurred when police attempted to stop a procession of demobilized soldiers and workers who were parading toward Downing street in a protest demonstration against being thrown out of their war jobs.

More than 5000 men took part in the demonstration, it was estimated. Several were clubbed by police. Twenty were taken to hospitals.

MT. VERNON, Ill., Mar. 2. The widow of W. N. Smith, who was his second wife, with other mourners heard "Rock of Ages" sung by Smith and his first wife at his funeral services here.

Husband and wife sang the hymn into a phonograph six years previously and the record was played as part of the burial service.

Here's a New One in Music! This Man's a Drum Virtuoso!

EDDIE NOLTING, the "Drum Virtuoso," who musicians say handles tympani as artistically as Kubelik does a fiddle.

American's New Musical Star Is Hailed as Modern Marvel With the Drumsticks

Eddie Nolting—the drum virtuoso—the Jan. Kubelik of the tympani—that's the new title for the first drummer ever to achieve recognition as a real artist. For the drum, indispensable as it is to music, hasn't been looked on as a thing of art itself, although it takes infinite artistry to handle it right.

Eddie Nolting, famous among orchestra leaders as a drummer with real art, has demonstrated himself to the American public in a series of last week that was a revelation in what the drums can do. Valerga, the pianist, declares that he is absolutely entitled to the title, "Virtuoso," the audience went wild over him, at any rate.

The famous drummer will offer selected specialties at the American, where he is one of John Wherry Lewis' talented musicians. And Valerga, who is an amateur cartoonist, incidentally, is drawing a series of cartoons of the master of the drumsticks.—Advertisement.

G. NICKERSON, ALBANY CITY CLERK, QUILTS

ALBANY, March 2.—George W. Nickerson, city clerk of Albany since its incorporation ten years or more ago and recently acquitted of a charge of alleged embezzlement of city funds, resigned his position last night at a meeting of the board of trustees.

The resignation was unanimously accepted by the board and Henry Davis, until recently a deputy in the office of County Auditor L. Harrison Clay, appointed in his place, offering his resignation to take effect immediately. Nickerson declared that the work of preparing the new assessment roll must begin shortly and that as he could not complete the work before April 19, the date of the Albany municipal election, he deemed his resignation to the best interests of the city. Nickerson held a triple role of city clerk, auditor and assessor in the city of Albany.

Coupled with the resignation, the board of trustees ordered the bonding companies standing sponsor for Nickerson and Louis W. Brown, city treasurer, to make good more than $2000 in shortages in the accounts of the two officials. The bonding companies have indicated their intention to reimburse the city at once.

Nickerson has announced he will accept a commercial position in San Francisco.

Fixed Race, Roll Lost; Again Story Is Told

CHICAGO, March 2.—Louis Wartman, tailor, Oakland, Cal., reported to police here today his suspicion that he had been bilked in a wire tapping game.

Wartman said he established himself in Oakland a few months and "almost met attractive men connected with a racing syndicate." After winning several small bets in "fixed races," he won a $18,000 gamble. He was not permitted to take the money until he had deposited cash to cover the checks with which he made the bet. He had wanted the cash. After following his friends half way across the country he put it up to the police here.

City directories for the Eastern cities do not list the name of Louis Wartman.

Auditor Bars Claim Of Efficiency Expert

City Auditor Harry G. Williams today served notice on the city council of his rejection of the salary claim of Municipal Efficiency Expert Norval W. Cook for the latter half of February, the claim amounting to $100. The communication was filed without comment by the commissioners.

The action by Williams is in pursuance of his previous stand rejecting all claims for salary filed by Cook since he was placed in his present position, the rejection being based on protests against the legality of the present position by the Civil Service Board.

New Charges Are Filed in Scientist Church Litigation

BOSTON, March 2.—(By the Associated Press)—The involved litigation between factions and individuals of the Christian Scientist Church took a new turn when Mrs. Emily H. Hulin of Brooklyn, N. Y., through her counsel, C. F. Choate Jr., filed in the Supreme Court a petition for leave to intervene in the suit of the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society against directors of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

She asked permission "in behalf of herself and all other members of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, known as the mother church, in good standing, and all other members of Christian Science churches and societies, and all other Christian Scientists."

Hearings before former Judge Frederic Dodge, as master, have been completed in the trustees' suit, in which they seek to have removed from the management of the publishing society. The master ruled that the evidence presented also covered the suit of John V. Dyer, more against the directors, seeking to compel them to recognize him as a member of their board. A draft of the master's report was submitted to counsel for the trustees, and time for filing the report with the Supreme Court expired yesterday.

DIRECTORS' PLEA DENIED. In view of Mrs. Hulin's petition, the master asked that the time for filing be extended to March 10 and this was granted.

Earlier in the day the Court had refused motions by counsel for the directors that the time be extended.

LANPHER FUND STILL GROWING

The generous treasury for the relief of Mrs. J. Lanpher and her three small children, the youngest of whom was born on Friday, less than a week after his father had died in the County Hospital of influenza, is being replenished daily by strangers who have interested themselves in the tragic plight of the family.

Substantial assistance is promised and if the sums, little and big, continue to pour in, perhaps, in time, home where the young mother with the aid of a widow's pension may be protected and free to rear them will be realized.

Mrs. Lanpher and her four-day-old baby is being cared for at 1748 Eighth avenue, where the five older children are dividing the household duties among themselves. Siblings are being sent to Sidney J. Silverstein, Easton building (formerly Union Savings Bank building). Gifts of furniture and clothing may be referred to Joe Egan, 27 Eighth street; telephone Oakland 5494.

Three S. F. Lawyers' Disbarment Is Asked

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Three local attorneys, C. Vincent Ricciardi, Arthur Crane and Daniel O'Connell, face disbarment by the Supreme Court of California as a result of a brief filed yesterday by the San Francisco Bar Association. Action is based upon the convictions of all three involving moral turpitude.

Ricciardi's conviction was for embezzlement. Crane's was for using the United States mails for a scheme to defraud. O'Connell's conviction was for conspiracy to violate the selective service act.

"A proper respect for the public and the legal profession," declared the San Francisco Bar Association, "prompted our action to disbar these attorneys. It is the duty of the court to take action without awaiting the appeal of appeal. Any man convicted of a felon should not be allowed to practice law."

Custody of Child Is Sought From Parents

Instead of the parents, it is relative who are seeking the custody of the four-year-old daughter of Walter Hiett who is being sued for divorce before Superior Judge E. C. Robinson, by Mrs. Mildred Hiett. The question of the custody of the child is delaying a decision in the case.

The child is now with Mrs. Hiett's father, Philip Hiett, near Fresno. Both parents wish her custody, evidently believing that neither will receive it. He has expressed a willingness to have the custody go to relatives.

Dr. J. E. Thompson Is Granted Injunction

Notification that a temporary restraining order has been issued by Superior Judge Bernard Flood, San Francisco directing the state medical board to refrain from enforcing its order prohibiting Dr. James E. Thompson from practicing medicine has been received by attorney Joseph P. Lacey, who defended Dr. Thompson in his trial on a charge of performing an illegal operation, of which he was acquitted. The order is made returnable March 19.

SALES OF IRISH BONDS GO FAST

That the $100,000 quota, apportioned to Alameda county as its share in the drive for the sale of the bond certificates of the new "Irish Republic" will be oversubscribed, was the opinion of the committee in charge of the drive and Phil M. Carey, county chairman, today. Subscriptions were pouring in at headquarters in the Albany building, and the offices at room 317 presented a busy scene all day.

Friends of the cause of Irish independence were greatly encouraged when at the big meeting in Ye Liberty theater $25,000 worth of the bond certificates were subscribed for by less than 200 people. There are more than 3000 on the lists of the committee that are counted as "sure subscribers" and many other subscriptions are coming in from sources than those counted upon.

FAITH SHAKEN, CLAIM. The confidence of Christian Scientists throughout the world, Mrs. Hulin says, "in the soundness, reliability and fidelity to principles of Christian Science" of publications sent out by the trustees "is already greatly impaired, it is rapidly waning and is in danger of being wholly destroyed." Thousands of Christian Scientists, she adds, have canceled their subscriptions for such publications, causing great financial injury to interests of members of the mother church, "sole financial beneficiary" of Mrs. Eddy's trust.

Mrs. Hulin says that the trustees "are not loyal, faithful and consistent believers and advocates of the principles of Christian Science" as taught by Mrs. Eddy.

"If the Court shall rule," she continues, "that they may not be removed by directors or the first members and directors, they should be removed by the Court."

The trustees, she alleges, have permitted publication of matter "which brought discredit upon Christian Science and was calculated and suited to mislead readers of such publications." She charges they have been guilty "of misfeasance and malfeasance" in failing to keep in a reliable bank or trust company their surplus funds; in borrowing for a purpose "not laudable nor lawful" $200,000, a sum "beyond their ability to liquidate promptly from the current income of the business," and in "waste and extravagance" in buying a motor car and paying for its upkeep, in renting quarters in San Francisco and in incurring obligations of more than $50,000 in the litigation to "attempt to protect an individual trustee," Lamont Rowlands, from removal from office.

Rely on Cuticura To Clear Away Skin Troubles

Have you ever stopped to reason why it is that so many products that are extensively advertised, all at once drop out of sight and are soon forgotten? The reason is plain—the article did not fulfill the promise of the manufacturer. These apply more particularly to a medicine. A medicinal preparation that has real curative value almost sells itself, as like an endless chain system the remedy is recommended by those who have been benefited, to those who are in need of it.

A prominent druggist says: "Take for example Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a preparation I have sold for many years and never hesitate to recommend, for in almost every case it shows excellent results, as many of my customers testify. No other kidney remedy has so large a sale."

According to sworn statements and verified testimony of thousands who have used the preparation, the success of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is due to the fact, so many people claim, that it fulfills almost every wish in overcoming kidney, liver and bladder ailments, corrects urinary troubles and neutralizes the uric acid which causes rheumatism.

You may receive a sample bottle of Swamp-Root by parcels Post. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and enclose ten cents. Also mention the Oakland Tribune. Large and medium size bottles for sale at all drug stores.—Advertisement.

DO NOT GIVE UP HOPE OF HEALTH

There are many women who have been invalids or semi-invalids so long that they accept their condition as a life burden. They have endured broken sleep, stomach trouble, nervousness, headaches and weakness so long that they have given up hope of enjoying good health. In many cases the illness began in childhood or early womanhood. It is these women, especially, who need the story of Mrs. J. Forest, of No. 204 West Third street, Duluth, Minn., will prove most interesting and profitable.

I suffered from convulsions a great deal when I was a child," relates Mrs. Forest, "and I was in delicate health for years. Some remedies seemed to help me for a time, but the results were not lasting. My blood was very thin and my nervous system became shattered. I was as white as a sheet and kept getting worse. I lost a great deal of weight. What little I ate did not help me and I had to force myself to swallow enough to keep me alive. I didn't know what a good night's sleep was and fear that when morning came, I also suffered from headaches and fainting spells. A friend of mine, a druggist, recommended Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I procured a box, though with very little hope of obtaining any benefit. I was overjoyed to find in a short time that the remedy was providing a very positive benefit. Its first effect was to improve my appetite. Soon I was able to sleep well and was feeling stronger. Then my strength began to come back and my color became better. I continued taking the pills until my nerves were strong and the tendency to headaches and fainting spells had disappeared. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only from my own experience but from that of my mother, who has taken the pills on my advice and has been benefited. I have also given them to my daughter, as a tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. In this way the general health is improved, the appetite increases, the digestion is restored and new vitality and energy develop. Work becomes easier because it does not cause exhaustion. Keep your system at its highest efficiency with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, the great blood builder and nerve tonic. Your own druggist can supply you at 60 cents per box. A booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be mailed free upon request to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. It is well worth studying by all who don't enjoy complete health.—Advertisement.

The Quick Way to Stop a Cough

This home-made syrup does the work in a hurry. Ready prepared, and never fails.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use for severe cough is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is sure to cure.

Four 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup, if desired. Then you make a full quart of ready-made syrup, but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the source, reaches the inflamed membranes, stops the throat and air passages, stops the annoying cough, loosens the phlegm, and soothes your coughs entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, famous for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot, gently tingles, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuritis, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bite, colds on the chest. Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use. 50c and 60c jars; hospital size $2.50.

JUST YELLOW MUSTARD FOR BACKACHE, LUMBAGO

Grandmother's old musty mustard plaster or poultice generally brings relief all right even in the severest cases, but it burns and blistered like blazes.

"Heat eases pain," reduces the inflammation and congestion, but you'll find that while Dicky's Musterole nature's mustard plaster, made of true yellow mustard and other pain destroyers, is just as hot as the old fashioned plaster it is much quicker, cleaner and more effective and cannot blister.

It's a great external remedy—just rub it on wherever aches, pains, inflammation, congestion or swelling exists and in a very few minutes the relief you have longed for surely arrives. Heat eases pain, reduces the inflammation and congestion, but you'll find that while Dicky's Musterole nature's mustard plaster, made of true yellow mustard and other pain destroyers, is just as hot as the old fashioned plaster it is much quicker, cleaner and more effective and cannot blister.

MY HEART and MY HUSBAND

by ADELE GARRISON

It was many days before even Lillian learned the details of Robert Savarin's strange journey in quest of Harry Underwood. He had evidently gathered all his strength to tell her of his failure to bring her definite news of her erstwhile husband, and when the last word left his lips his utter exhaustion was pitifully apparent.

The nurse came forward swiftly, but Lillian's eyes had been as quick as hers. She gave the great, appealing eyes before her the assurance they so hungrily awaited.

"Everything is all right," she said, slowly, distinctly. "Nothing in the world matters except that you are safe home with your dear ones. Just let us take care of you, and don't worry."

She kissed him, and then stepped quickly aside as the nurse brought another reassuring word. The nurse, whose whole appearance suggested the fear that soon he would be beyond the reach of any human remedy.

The nurse, with her finger on his pulse, watched him closely, then apparently relieved by the effect of her effort, made a signal with her outstretched hand, which she noisily closed out of the room into the corridors outside, where we waited, miserably apprehensive, until the nurse came out to us.

LILLIAN AMAZES MADGE.

"He's resting peacefully for the present," she said. "But he mustn't be allowed to speak again of anything exciting. And for the next few hours I can have no one in the room but myself."

Upon his arrival, a litter later, the physician not only upheld the nurse's decision, but announced that the same policy of absolute quiet must be enforced for days. He promised Lillian and Mrs. Cosgrove that after the first dangerous day or two they might take turns in leaving the nurse, reiterated his belief that the artist had been under a most unusual nervous strain, and lightened the weight that had settled upon us by holding out a distant hope for the ultimate recovery of the stricken man.

Lillian rallied to this as if it were a slogan. With her old energy she planned for Mrs. Cosgrove's comfort, and she had safely settled in a nap, made the necessary arrangements for her prolonged stay, then, after taking me to the library, succeeded in thoroughly astonishing me.

"I know I know he's ready for putting her own affairs out of her mind to make room for the pet troubles of others, but when she said casually: 'And now, as I won't be able to go with better dress, I'll get a costume for Rita's affair.' I first caught my breath in sheer amazement, then turned upon her indignantly.

"Rita's affair, indeed?" I stormed. "Do you think I'm going to permit you to bother your head for a minute about a useless piece of frumpy like that, with all you have on hand here? Not for one minute!"

"Not for one minute!" I repeated. "I'm going home. I really must!"

I answered the sudden look of disappointment in her face—"school tomorrow, you know."

"IT'S ALL OFF," and you've been wonderful to stay. I won't say anything more about the costume today, but I'm going to plan it just the same. It will have a great deal to do with you. She smiled affectionately at me, "if no one at that affair outlines you in originality of costume and general scrumptiousness. So run along home, with your mind at ease, only promise me you'll manage to keep Dicky from knowing that I'm planning anything for you."

"He said he was going to design something for me with cheese on the side," she said with relief. "It'll be too busy to suspect us, and if he knows it's all off, Dicky's the dearest boy in the world, but anybody can warm a sack out of him."

Her off-hand characterization troubled me as I traveled homeward. It wasn't the first time I had heard this criticism of my husband's garish nature from Dicky's side, and there was always a feeling of disloyalty to him in listening to the strictures without objection. Yet there was nothing for me to say, for in my heart I knew that she had spoken the truth.

But I had another and deeper cause for worry. If Dicky designed a costume for me, and I didn't wear it, I was afraid that he would be justly enraged and angry. I had not thought of the thought to Lillian, for I wished to bring not even the smallest complication into her life so pilled just now with work and worry. But it was a problem which loomed vexatiously before me.

For this reason, I am afraid I wasn't even decently, humanely

Clam Chowder

MANHATTAN.

Chop up a quarter of a pound of fat pork. Melt it in a pan, adding four ounces of onion, chopped fine, and fry them with the pork until quite browned. Then add one and one-half pounds of potatoes, cut in half inch squares, a pound of peeled and chopped onion, a bunch of celery, and a bunch of parsley. Let the whole boil until the potatoes are cooked. Remove the pork, add a little white pepper and thyme leaves. Should the clam juice not be sufficient, add a little water. Serve some pilot crackers on the side.

SMILES

He (admiring a vase of flowers)—

Are they not beautiful? Do you know they remind me of you. She—

But they are artificial. He—Ah, yes, but you'd never know it.

"I can remember most every word of your speech," said the admiring friend. "I was afraid something like that would happen. I'm glad you put your back to me, and then I'm going home. I really must!"

"I answered the sudden look of disappointment in her face—"school tomorrow, you know."

"Well, come down to the shop tomorrow morning, and I will put you to work. You'll find it a possibility come until the day after."

"Why? What tomorrow I must do?" she asked. "I must go to the great Demonstration of the Fruit of the Unemployed."

"Was the 'demonstration' reception a success?" "I judge so," replied Mrs. Underwood. "Yes," Mrs. Underwood's gown was such a marvel that quite a number of the ladies present left earlier than they intended, and I wish to say that they were very disagreeable to their husbands on the way home."

"How are the boys in this section?" "Fine," replied Father. "Cornelius," he said, "has been out of the job, wasn't it?" "Not at all. Wherever the going is specially hard, he's out there. We call it a 'detour'."

regretful when Dicky a few evenings later announced his intention:—

"By the way, Madge, about that costume party of Rita's."

"Yes?" I said expectantly.

"It's all off, for a time at least. Rita's got the flu, danger of pneumonia—anyway, there's nothing doing in the party line for her for some time. You couldn't let me off the other blouse, could you?"

I glanced at him sharply, wondering in dismay if he meant it. The next instant I had caught the twinkle in his eye, which told me that he would carry out his promise to go with me to the Bayview gathering.

When Joy is There.

When joy is in the elements,
Then you're feelin' big;
Let the thunder beat the drum—
Rise, an' dance o-a-jaz!

When joy is in the elements,
Let the weather roll!
Open wide the windows
To the sunshine of the soul!

GOOD ENOUGH FOR HIM.

"How do you like sermons on 'The Gospel of Light'?"

"Well," replied the Mean Man, "if you only have to put Sunbeams in the collection basket, I'm agreeable."

Never give up in the race

Even when you fall from grace,
Rise up an' holler 'Glory!'"

About WOMEN

By her marriage to Prince Christopher, Mrs. William B. Leeds of New York becomes cousin of King George of England, and an aunt of Queen Elizabeth Victoria of Spain.

By 1925 it is anticipated that there will be a new army of women doctors practicing in England, for there are nearly 3000 women students taking up medicine at the present time.

Mrs. Kellogg Fairbanks, of Chicago, and Mrs. Beverly Munford, of Richmond, Va., who have been appointed as members of the United States Census Commission, are the first women to be thus honored.

DENNISON WORKS

EVERY DAY, NOW

Well-Known Horseman Was Badly Discouraged—Tanlac Builds Him Up.

When a friend advised me to take Tanlac he surely did me a great favor, for it has entirely relieved me of all my troubles," said Robert A. Dennison, 241 East Eighth street, Los Angeles, Cal., a well-known owner and trainer of harness horses.

"For the past year," continued Mr. Dennison, "I had been in a badly run-down and weakened condition, and last spring I had a severe attack of stomach trouble and I kept going down hill steadily until I started taking Tanlac. I felt tired and worn all the time and got it did not have strength enough to walk a city block without stopping to rest."

"I don't believe I have been at work today if it hadn't been for Tanlac, as nothing else I tried helped me a particle. I had no appetite, but I forced myself to eat any way, trying to keep up my strength. However, I did not seem to do any good and I continued to grow weaker and weaker and even what I ate did not seem to benefit me. As I always got up in the morning feeling as tired as when I went to bed."

"As I said before, a friend advised me to try Tanlac and I had been taking it about a week when one night I awoke and found myself feeling better. I had a little sleep and before I hardly knew it I had gone quite a distance. I was doing a lot of good. I continued taking it until now I am enjoying splendid health again, and am working out at Exposition Park every day, and have just as much energy as ever. I had a splendid appetite and eat three hearty meals a day and enjoy every one of them. I have energy, I feel strong and my sleep does me so much good I fall right off feeling greatly refreshed. I am always recommending Tanlac to my friends, for I think it is a remarkable medicine."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company Stores.—Advertisement.

KITCHY ECONOMIES

TABLE SERVICE

The lack of outside service at table should not mean that a heavier burden is imposed on the homemaker. It is possible by careful planning to simplify service considerably and also to let more than one member of the family share in the work.

The best help in table service is the serving tray. If it be a good, spacious one it is possible to serve an entire meal and remove dishes between the courses without having to rise once. The first dish, a hot soup or other entree may be at each place before the family sits down to dinner. The tray containing the other courses is at the side of the table, and these dishes are placed on the table as each course is finished. At the conclusion the dishes may be passed back to the tray and dessert passed.

It is even possible to have the table crumpled without having to rise. There is now on the market a diminutive crumb sweeper, made exactly like the carpet sweeper. It is silver mounted, and very attractive as well as practical. This little device may be used by each person at the table in turn, and as it is lightly rolled over each place it picks up every crumb without spilling and without awkwardness.

Another device that is coming into fashion again to make serving easier is the "lazy Susan." This is a revolving tray placed in the middle of the table. It contains condiments and other accessories of the table and obviates the need for awkward and clumsy passing things around. It revolves at will, and brings within graceful reach of each one whatever is desired on the tray. The old style lazy Susans were wooden affairs, and although practical were far from decorative. Now the excellence of the idea is being coupled with attractiveness, for there has been placed on the market a glass lazy Susan that is a quite handsome affair. A silver base supports this large circular glass tray, and this is placed in the center of the table. This glass tray is large enough to accommodate more than a few condiments. An entire course can be placed on it—vegetable dishes, meats and accessories—and each individual can help himself from a dish, replace it and revolve the tray to the next dish. Many can thus serve themselves at once very conveniently so that the burden of serving an entire meal is not thrust upon one hapless member.

OAKLAND'S LARGEST DEPARTMENT STORE

AUTO DEALER OPENS SHOW OF ONE LINE

By JIM HOULIHAN

The Lou H. Rose Company opened last night, what is probably the first real individual motor car show held by an automobile dealer, in which he presented thirty-five automobiles prospects a complete offering of 1920 Chalmers motor cars. We say its the first of its kind because no other dealer has ever before arranged such an extensive showing of one make automobile.

The salesrooms and shops have been decorated in a manner to make the place a most attractive one, with which it was noted out to Lou Rose and local manager, J. L. Brambila shows that those who viewed the first evening's display, were impressed with it.

All of the models which were brought out from Chicago in time to be present at San Francisco, supplemented by a richly designed limousine and a recently acquired Chalmers stage, are on display. Attracting about as much interest as any individual model is the stripped chassis. Every working part is shown, and the chassis is in a clear manner the function different units perform. The production cost of this chassis is said to hover close to the $11,900 mark.

The body design on every one of these late Chalmers bears the mark of real motor car craftsmanship and there is a style to suit almost any kind of a taste. If preference runs to the sport type of car there is one to be had, if the roadster suits your needs better, that too, is on view, and for one who is undecided as to whether to buy a sedan, limousine, or comfortable family car, the touring model.

The exhibition will continue for the remainder of the week, each day some feature being planned. Today has been designated as Sport Model day; Wednesday, as Touring Model day; Thursday, Closed Car day; Friday, "At Home" day; Saturday, Service day; Sunday, "Hot Spot" day.

The first night crowd was a large one. Manager Brambila claims that public interest will grow daily and that by the close of the week his showrooms will be the busiest quarters in Oakland.

The new firearms ordinance, intended to prevent the promiscuous sale of firearms in the city, was held before the city council this morning by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety E. F. Morse and action on the measure was delayed after a lengthy discussion for one week.

The ordinance includes rigid provisions regarding the sale and purchase of all forms of firearms and makes purchases impossible without the presentation of a written permit from the chief of police. Under its terms exemption is granted to peace officers and to transactions between firearms dealers.

Free Lessons For Women in Coat Making

MISS ELIZABETH COX, whose interesting demonstration is expected to attract many auditors.

Eastern Expert to Demonstrate Secret of New Style at Marymont & Upright's

Demonstrating the adaptability of a striking new McCall sport coat, called the "Cordier" coat, Elizabeth Cox, one of the McCall company's pattern experts, has established herself at Marymont & Upright's for this week. The coat is patterned so that it cuts in one piece, and can be put together in a good seamstress in about two hours' time. The object of the coat is to aid in coping with the increased cost of garments of this nature.

The coat cut from 40-inch materials, requires but two and one-half yards to make, and is so simplified in its design that any ordinarily clever woman may handle the entire cutting and making in rapid order. This sport coat is making a sensational hit throughout the East. It is being manufactured by one maker of coats and sold at a high price. The McCall company has the sole patent rights for home sewing use. The patterns cannot be used other than for personal needs. This is to protect the one manufacturer against his pattern being used against him by other manufacturers. Marymont & Upright are demonstrating the new windows.

I.W.W. HALL ATTACKED, IS BOY'S CLAIM

MONTESANO, Wash., March 2.—When O. Grimm, for whose death in the Centralia Armistice Day parade ten men are on trial here charged with murder, received his fatal injury directly in front of the I. W. W. Hall, according to a boy, 15-year-old boy of Centralia, who was the defense star witness since its side of the case was taken up.

When Bray was excused from the witness stand representatives of the prosecution at once began the preparation of perjury charges against the youth. A complaint was prepared by J. H. Jahank, assistant prosecutor of Lewis county and Bray was arrested.

Bray created a sensation by this testimony. He was the first witness to testify that Grimm was in front of the I. W. W. Hall in the face of statements from dozens of witnesses for the prosecution that Grimm stood at Second street and Tower avenue, more than a hundred feet from the hall.

J. Cook, rancher, testified that he saw a man come staggering from in front of the I. W. W. Hall, his hands over his stomach, and go across Second street to the rear of the "Ax-Billy" store. This comports directly with testimony by the prosecution's witnesses to the effect that Grimm, after being shot, ran across Second street to the rear of the building on the southwest corner of the intersection.

When the parade, after turning south on Third street, Bray asserted, and paused, he saw two soldiers rush from the rear of the line and smash in the door of the I. W. W. Hall. He was fired, Bray testified. Other soldiers gathered and among them he recognized Frank S. Van Gilder and the man whom he had just learned was Grimm. They were directly in front of the hall.

INCOME TAX BY STATES UPHELD

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Right of the states to impose income taxes on non-residents provided they are in harmony with those imposed on residents is upheld and defined by the Supreme Court in two decisions.

In a case from Oklahoma, the court held a state had authority to levy income taxes against non-residents on income derived from property within the state.

In a New York case, however, the court declared such taxes against non-residents must not be discriminatory.

The Oklahoma income tax law was sustained and the New York law was declared void in so far as it denies non-residents exemptions which are given New York citizens. Both opinions were given by Justice Pitney, with Justice Reynolds dissenting in the New York case. In both suits were involved the exemptions, similar to the Federal income tax law, provided for married and single persons.

Dissenting between the Oklahoma and New York laws, it appears, that the Oklahoma law gives non-residents and citizens the same exemptions, while the New York law denies non-residents exemptions granted its citizens.

In the Oklahoma proceedings C. B. Shaffer of Chicago sued the State Auditor to enjoin collection of income taxes levied on income derived from Oklahoma oil wells.

GIANT ROBBER IS BALKED BY NEWSBOY'S CRY

Clarence Taylor, 10-year-old newsboy, prevented a robbery this morning when he "bawled out" a six-footer who had just hurried a brick through a plate glass window at the Maxwell hardware store, Fourteenth and Washington. It was early and Taylor and the window smasher were the only ones on the street.

"Hey, cut that out," the boy yelled when he heard the crash of glass, and continued to shout as the man started to follow him, at by crying the contents of the window. The boy's cries had their effect. The man turned and fled.

Then Taylor, who lives at 2805 Market street, ran down to Twelfth street where he found three policemen. He reported the affair and they gave chase, with no more effect than to add to the fright of the window-breaker, who vanished up a dark and muddy alley.

SICK STAND IN LINE FOR CURE THROUGH FAITH

SAN FRANCISCO, March 2.—Despite rain pouring down in torrents, hundreds of sick and maimed stood in line or sat in wheel chairs today waiting their turn to enter Grace Cathedral, where James Moore Hickson is preaching cure by faith and laying on of hands.

The crowds have grown so large that new rules to govern the line have been formulated by Bishop Coeditor Parsons of the Episcopal church. He said hundreds of written testimonials had been received from persons who said they had been cured or greatly helped by Hickson. Hickson came from England. He is a layman of the Episcopal church.

Alameda Council Meets This Evening

ALAMEDA, March 2.—The regular first of the month session of the city council will be held tonight. The usual routine monthly business will be reinforced with a number of special matters. Mayor Frank Otis said yesterday he hardly thought he would be ready to name the successor to the late Mayor Brown, deceased library trustee. The mayor would like an East End resident on the board if a suitable man from that section is available.

City Council Will Discuss Attitude on Salary Raises

The large number of recent resignations because of insufficient salaries and the attitude of the City Council toward recommended increases will be discussed by the Civil Service Board tonight. The general wage situation will be discussed and the difference in salaries in various municipal departments will be considered.

According to Secretary Frank C. Colburn, all city departments not have granted the increases recently recommended by the Civil Service Board, while other civil service council jurisdictions have not been advanced, although of the same grade. At the same time, Colburn states, political appointees in the council departments have been increased.

In supporting this statement Colburn points to the fact that stenographers in the office of City Clerk Lon Cummings are now receiving salaries of $110 a month, while the salaries for civil service employees of the same branch is $100 a month.

Additional resignations were received this morning by M. Auerbach, deputy city engineer in charge of the municipal engineering department, those of Kenyon Clark, draftsman, and Henry Howland, field engineer.

According to Auerbach, the wage situation and the resignations have caused a critical situation in the department, which is operated under Commissioner of Streets William J. Bascus, and at present there is in the department only the nucleus of a force. Properly trained men cannot be secured at the present salary scale, according to both Commissioner Bascus and Auerbach.

A number of other resignations are declared to be under consideration, including three in the office of City Auditor Harry G. Williams. Many employees are declared to be dissatisfied with the situation, the fact that they would jeopardize their civil service standing, and under the city's policy they cannot take leaves of absence to look for other employment.

Food Ordinance Proposes Examination of Employees

A drastic ordinance requiring rigid inspection and examination of employees in all establishments handling foodstuffs offered for sale to the public is now under preparation and will be laid before the city council for adoption some time this week by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. P. Morse.

Under the ordinance all establishments handling foodstuffs will have to take out a permit from the health department and all employees of such places must have working permits, and will be compelled to undergo physical examination to show that they are free from contagious disease. Examination and issuance of permits to employees is to be made every six months.

The ordinance, which is now under preparation in the office of City Attorney H. L. Hagan, will effect restaurants, ice cream parlors, grocery markets, bakeries and all other places where food is sold or stored. It also calls, aside from personal cleanliness of employees, for proper sanitation and ventilation of premises, thorough washing of glasses, dishes and food receptacles, and gives the municipal market and food inspector authority to enter any place and seize and destroy food unfit for human consumption.

FINE AND IMPRISONMENT

The penalty clause in the measure provides punishment of a fine and imprisonment, both, ranging from $10 to $500 and from five days to six months imprisonment.

Original preparation of the ordinance was ordered by Commissioner Morse following the receipt of a report from Market and Food Inspector J. S. Sullivan on conditions existing in restaurants, bakeries, and other places offering foodstuffs for sale. The commissioner then made a personal investigation of conditions, with the result that the ordinance was drafted. It is one of a series of similar measures in other cities.

Business Shows 30 Per Cent Increase in Year, Say Banks

By G. W. PURSELL

Building activities throughout the city, both residential and industrial, have maintained a satisfactory pace during February. The number of permits issued and the amount of money involved, both are in excess of the figures for the same month of 1919. The tendency is toward larger units, as Oakland's status as an industrial locality of first rank is becoming more and more understood and appreciated. A wider acquaintance on the part of industrial promoters with the superior shipping and climatic conditions of this city is resulting in increased commercial, industrial and home building. An appreciation of this city's obvious advantages is prompting increased supply of accommodations for family living, both in individual dwellings and apartment houses.

Clearing-house figures, always an accurate gauge of the tendency of expenditures, denote an increase of local business activity, especially in building lines, of more than 30 per cent above February of 1919. The abundant evidence that the material market is holding its full share in the transactions. Savings bank accounts also showing a fast increase in volume, add to the accumulated assurance of present and prospective home building by individual proprietors upon a liberal scale. Husky building and accountancy and home building always go hand in hand, as they complement each other. These figures, together with increasing activity in real estate exchanges, particularly in the movement of small tracts of land, denote a moderate, priced homes, unite to demonstrate the presence of a period of building activity and of real estate stability and promise of continuity.

A conspicuous element in this building activity is the attitude assumed by the bankers. A policy very generally being adopted by them to render every reasonable aid to the building activity of this kind. Money is readily obtainable for home building at all banks of this district. This is not to be construed as a general policy is not exercised regarding commercial and industrial building, for quite a different financial institutions are called upon to go the limit within prudence and safety, to encourage the building of homes.

The liberal attitude of the banks, it may be said, is a direct response to the frantic demand for home accommodations in this city, caused by the city's growth and the suspension of building activity during the war, and for some time thereafter. Even now it is only with the greatest difficulty that household accommodations are obtained. The demand is mounting in this regard. The demand for places of living for families within the reach of machinists' incomes and those of persons of modest accumulations is steadily increasing. Residence of medium expense will be needed in this immediate locality in the next two years if indeed within the next year. The demand, could it be satisfied, would be prepared to meet an increased population of 20,000 within the period above named, according to estimates of industrial employers. And these employers, by the way, express anxiety for the stabilization of this housing increase, as a potent factor in securing high-grade employees. It is emphasized that these employers of skilled labor that comfort and contentment go hand in hand, and that both make for emancipation from industrial disturbance and suspension resultant therefrom.

The present duty of Oakland is to supplement, by vastly augmenting its building activities, its incomparable school system, its transportation facilities for living, by the immediate supply of homes and more modest accommodations for prospective citizens. With the present deficit removed, the last barrier to the city's recognized supremacy as the foremost industrial center of the Pacific Coast would fall.

ELASTIC WAR PLANT URGED BY PERSHING

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Retention of sufficient war time posts and war plants to permit rapid expansion of the army and quick resumption of production of war materials would be recommended by General Pershing, he indicated today on his return to Washington after a three months' tour of inspection of camps, cantonments and supply depots over the country.

The general's full report to Secretary Baker probably will be made within ten days.

There is strong sentiment throughout the country in favor of universal service of some sort, General Pershing said, based on the recognition of the benefit to the men themselves and also on the fact that "we might not have allies to hold the line for us in the next war."

"American citizenship is sound to the core," the general said.

"It was impressed with the wave of Americanism which is sweeping over the country."

General Pershing said he had not talked politics to "a single person" in his trip and "is not talking politics now."

Police Department Will Be Surveyed

A survey of the entire police department, both in the uniformed and plain clothes branches, is to be commenced within a short time by Nicol W. Cook, municipal efficiency expert, according to a statement today by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. P. Morse, who declared that the council is not to be asked to investigate the inspectors' bureau, but would be requested by him to authorize Cook to make the survey indicated.

The object of the investigation will be, Morse stated, to determine the needs of the department in all branches in the matter of additions to the present force, and also to get a general survey of other needs of the department. The work will not be undertaken at present because Cook is engaged in a survey of the health department, which has been delayed by his illness.

OFFICER CHOSEN; NAME WITHHELD

A successor to City Health Officer Dr. Daniel Crosby, who resigned yesterday, has been decided upon, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. P. Morse announced this morning. The identity of the new man is not to be made public yet.

The Commissioner today addressed a communication to Dr. Crosby in response to the letter of resignation of yesterday, expressing his appreciation with regret and proffering Morse's appreciation of Dr. Crosby's services during his tenure of office and the assistance he gave in the past.

"The matter has been all arranged," said Commissioner Morse this morning when asked about Dr. Crosby's successor, "but I am not ready at this time to disclose the identity of the new man. The forthcoming occupancy of the office will be probably temporary in nature, in view of the general reorganization we desire to put into effect in the Health Department."

The man determined upon to fill Dr. Crosby's place is not at the present time connected with the city government, Commissioner Morse stated this morning.

HAIL FALLS IN OAKLAND TWICE DURING TODAY

Hail fell twice during the day. At 12:30 the little white balls were nearly as big as marbles and early in the morning it hailed for several minutes.

Opposition of Mercury with Venus, according to the American Ephemeris, occurred today and is thought by Professor Porta to be responsible for the two hail storms and attending rain. Precipitation has been steady and heavy all day. Shortly after seven o'clock this morning, during the hail storm's brief visit, almost .04 of an inch fell in about a minute and a half.

BUILDING IN OAKLAND FOR GUARDS, AM

Urging that the State appropriate $1,000,000 at the next special session of the legislature to cover cost of a National Guard building and equipment in Oakland, which when completed will form a part of the gigantic war recreation and art center in the vicinity of Lake Merritt, the special war memorial and museum advisory committee of twenty John L. Davis and headed by Jean Robinson today is offering support and co-operation in the interests of the proposition.

Chairman Robinson announced that Samuel Hubbard and J. J. Mul-larkey, both members of the special committee, had been appointed by him to confer with the library board relative to a request recently made that $250,000 be added to the bond issue, which is expected to go before the people of Oakland, with a full account of the facts of the presidential primaries in May. Hubbard and Mullarkey will report their findings to the general committee at the next meeting on Friday in the offices of the Community Service in the Hotel Oakland.

Announcement that a champion manager will soon be appointed also made by Robinson, in addition to an advisory committee of twenty-five, which, he said, will represent the chief interests of the entire city. The chief duties of the advisory board will be to present the situation to the public in a concise and business like way, according to Robinson, and that lectures, moving pictures and colored maps will be several of the publicity methods used.

Reporting to the general committee Marston Campbell, city engineer, claimed that Lake Merritt waters were contaminated with the accumulated sewage of years, and that the proposed pipe line from the Key Route pier was the only solution for the matter.

INTERFERENCE BY THE GOVERNOR.

A faithful judicial officer of California failed to get any support from Governor Stephens when he upheld the law in imposing a three-day jail sentence on a self-confident young woman student at the University of California for speeding. On the contrary the governor immediately undid the commendable work Judge Edgar of Berkeley started. The governor's political factotum gives as the reason for the strange and weird procedure that "it is unduly harsh to send young girls to jail."

Yet the young woman offender, Miss Lucille Krause (freshmen student at the university are not young girls) confessed to the offense of exceeding the speed limit on Berkeley's most crowded thoroughfare. Speeding university students in automobiles have slain women on two different occasions within the last three months. Is it not a bit harsh to crush out the lives of men, women and children in this sudden manner—on the victims? Is it not harsh on the public to permit the menace of disdainful young men and women to continue to endanger the lives of citizens?

Surely Governor Stephens did not think of this when he started his political machinery moving to free the Krause girl. For he is charged with the duty of upholding the law and the punishment of violators of the law. So are the members of the Alameda County board who weekly performed the governor's bidding—the district attorney, the sheriff and the chief of police of Oakland—and ordered the release of the student.

But despite this unwarranted interference with the course of justice, the Berkeley judge is absolutely right in his decision to jail violators of the traffic laws. Students at the university who are so deficient in brains or morals as to wantonly violate the law should be punished without distinction as to sex or social standing. They don't belong at the university anyway. And when they confess their crimes with giggling and snickering indifference their penalty should be doubled.

THAT NEGLECTED TRADE.

The staggering total showing that the balance of trade for the United States in 1919 was over four billions of dollars in favor of this country has blinded the eyes of some of the statisticians to certain smaller items in the list which are soon to claim attention. It will be found, for instance, that this country paid $240,624,900 more to the East Indies than they paid to the United States, and Cuba received $140,219,000 more from the United States than she spent here. Brazil has a balance of over a hundred million against us.

What is of more importance to the Pacific Coast is that the trade nations of China, Japan, Argentina, and Chile are all on the wrong side of the ledger. Those countries have the gold for which to pay for American goods and they have goods needed here which they could give in exchange. The situation in the foreign money market is of such a nature as to reduce our European balance and the wartime and relief demands are to be expected to become smaller. Good business demands that this country look after that trade which is to be permanent and that the export business to the Far East and to the South is given an immediate and effective stimulant.

PROMOTING MT. LASSEN.

Shasta county, proud in the possession of the only volcano within the borders of continental United States, is preparing to hang out the welcome sign to strangers and to entertain the thousands who will call to see Mount Lassen. The mountain and vicinity have been made a National park, they fit into the chain of such places so that travel will be encouraged, and they will be advertised by government appropriation.

The only drawback in the plans that are to invite the Nation to come to the mountain is supplied by the sheep men of the Lassen neighborhood. They are informed, and correctly, that it has been the policy of Uncle Sam to exclude sheep from his parks and that Lassen is the only park where the herds now roam. At present the forest service is supervising the grazing near the volcano and it is from it that the sheep men expect an announcement, any day, that the sheep must move. For the benefit of these men it may be said that George E. Goodwin, National park engineer, does not expect action to be taken on the grazing situation for some time to come. In the meantime the chamber of commerce at Redding and other places are figuring that 10,000 visitors each year means an expenditure of over $100,000 and that this advantage will more than offset the loss of grazing land.

CONSERVATION IN TIME.

Within the last few weeks considerable alarm has been caused by the shortage of the rainfall in California and the probable effects on crops, industries and hydro-electric power during the coming spring and summer. And while the rainfall of the last few days has brought large benefit and much encouragement, the danger is not entirely passed by any means.

A conference has been convoked in Sacramento to consider possible measures of conserving the water supply for the coming season and other means of getting through a third successive dry year with the minimum of injury. The State Railroad Commission, responding to the obvious duty to "do something," has suggested a program of water conservation. The people have been made to realize the importance of water as never before. Approaching the subject of water in the Pacific Coast area and without any reference to the present seasonal shortage of rainfall, Sunset Magazine has this to say:

"The West's most precious asset is not its copper, gold and silver; it's not the timber wealth of its mountain ranges; it's not the salmon of its rivers, or the herds in its valleys. Far more valuable than all these is just plain water. It is the basis of life, the cause of all prosperity. But the systematic development of the western water resources has just begun. Imagine what the result will be when the intermost kilowatt of electrical energy has been extracted from the mountain streams, when the Columbia, the Frazer, the Rogue and the Willamette, the Lewis and the Feather have all been completely harnessed, when fifty turbines and wheels are rotating where one is turning today."

Truthfully said as far as it goes. But what will happen when these and a hundred other energy-giving, life-creating rivers and streams on the Pacific side of the divide have their sources of water desolated: when they become silt-filled carriers of destructive floods in the rainy season and barren scars on the earth in the dry season. They will not turn many turbines then.

In other words what about the conservation of the water supply as well as the development of water power? In this present shortage of water to meet existing urgent demands why not think about the conservation of the natural water reservoirs—the forests that cover the mountain slopes and canyons?

Every acre of forest burned is a levy upon the future. The Tribune has been urging water conservation through forest conservation for many years. The federal government gives only an inadequate attention to the subject. The State government has no comprehensive program of cooperation with the federal government and executes no effective methods on its own account. Private owners of large timber tracts hold aloof from or oppose any practical plans of forest conservation, preferring to exploit the poisonous propaganda of the light burning and other theories that mean insignificant expense upon themselves.

Sunset and other organs which ought to speak in the public interest feign neutrality on this vital subject. They dream about more kilowatts and more crops in the future, but ignore or temporize regarding practical conservation of the present. There should be no neutrality on the question of water and forest conservation of the West. There is no moral justification for neutrality.

Those who howl about trouble when it visits them, yet take no steps to prevent the visitation, are deficient in intelligence or sincerity. Next summer, unless the rule of many years is broken, there will be much concern over avoidable forest fires, heavy losses and heavy costs of fire fighting. Sections of the mountain water sheds will be destroyed and less summer run-off of water for the coming years.

The State and Federal governments should adopt now a comprehensive, far-sighted continuing program of conservation of water and forests. It should be such a program as will require every private owner of timber land to do his duty in the protection of the public interests. The time for action is now. Surely there has been enough of fruitless agitation over the peril of the passing hour. Safeguards should and must be provided.

A Chicago meteorological expert assures anxious interrogators that the ring around the moon does not mean anything. Another weighty matter settled. There have been rings around the moon ever since the beginning of recorded meteorological observations and probably some time before. They have never meant anything, but it is well that a Chicago professor reassures the public. He ought to be taken seriously.

Washington announces that the latest murders on the Mexican border are to be investigated. But what is the use of investigation if corrective results do not follow? NOTES and COMMENT

Recalling that the collector of the port of San Francisco interdicted the shipment of "The Decameron" not so very long ago, taking pains to justify himself on the well known score of the book's broadness, account is now taken of the unflinching announcement of a new edition, on India paper, with a portrait of Boccaccio in front. Perhaps it is the duty of some one to turn on the alarm down at the custom house.

We are advised that the output of German polish has increased. The uncomfortable fact is that every German producer has increased, or is in a way to increase. The Germans have gone straight to work to repair damages. While not abating their rancor toward their conquerors, they are bending to the task of extermination, a fact which might be taken serious account of by some peoples who hold themselves the victors.

We are advised that the "olive paste" that has been put on the market is to be called in, because of several instances of poisonous poisoning peculiar to that preparation. Olive paste hasn't a familiar sound to those in the heart of the olive country, and there is likely to be wonder that anybody should seek to improve on just olives.

A news item tells of 3,240,000 eggs, or fifteen carloads, being started for New York last Saturday. It would be hardly uncommercial to say that eggs would be cheaper in California if all that were produced here were put on the local market; but the next time we are regaled with the explanation, that eggs are high because not enough are locally produced to supply the local demand we shall be entitled to come forth with the ha ha.

Perhaps there are those who will admit that some considerable problems have been shunted from Federal shoulders in turning back the railroads; but still they could probably also admit that it was nice to have control of all that tremendous interest without having acquired it by purchase and not being responsible for the reckoning.

The thing that may be bothering Dempsey, and is undoubtedly worrying his manager, is that however the slacker prosecution turns out, it won't do the box office any good. This will be particularly true as to the much heralded films that have been in preparation.

The news from Chico is not always self-explanatory. Here is an item that tells how the Board of Trustees had to appropriate $150 to clean the jail, which renovation has heretofore been done by prisoners, but there being no prisoners, an appropriation was necessary. Right off the question will occur how the premises could soiled if there were no occupants.

Here is a new sort of prohibition. European opera stars refuse to sign contracts to sing in dry America. What had better be done about that, now?

In ordering his name off the North Dakota list of presidential candidates to be voted for in that State's primaries, Bryan said something that you desire to pledge delegates to Bryan. I must not be entered as a candidate. Bryan Democracy and the Bryan candidacy were so long one and the same that there was some excuse for the North Dakotans.

In granting Ireland two parliaments the British government is now overdoing it about as much as it underdid it for more than a hundred years in not granting any.

"De" Baker, intro. wearer of medals, unlawful medical practitioner, or finger law breaker, affords another example of an entirely competent man working twice as hard to get into jail as he would need to keep out and prosper in an honest way.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

Good for David P. Barrows, president of the University of California. He positively refused to permit Raymond Robins, writer, lecturer and defender of the Soviet government of Russia to speak on the university campus. President Barrows is a real American and anything but genuine Americanism won't get past his rigid scrutiny very easily. Barrows says he believes in freedom of speech, but not in spreading dangerous propaganda.—St. Helena Star.

The 19,000 grower members of the California Fruit and Apricot Growers, Inc., the State-wide co-operative organization which claims to market 75 percent of the dried prunes and apricot acreage of the State, are receiving notice this week that the association will exercise its options on their crops for the years 1920 and 1921.—Chico Enterprise.

The $10,000 bond issue of the Paradise Irrigation project was carried by a vote of 13 to 1. The money obtained for the bonds will be used to complete the plan of works adopted by the board of directors several months ago and the acquisition of the water and water rights necessary for the operation of the irrigation system.—Oroville Register.

At a suburb for the boosters of the rainmaker, Mr. Hattall, the storm in his vicinity last Sunday delivered less water than any other part of the state. It may be possible, of course, that he was responsible for the storm breaking out in southern California and coming this way—and again he may not—all according to the strength of your belief.—Los Banos Enterprise.

THE FORUM

The Editor of the TRIBUNE disclaims responsibility for opinions and statements expressed in this column. Brief contributions on current topics of general interest are welcome. They will not, as a rule, be printed unless accompanied by the name of the writer, which, if desired, will be withheld from publication.

THE SPEEDER

To the Editor of The Tribune: I feel sure that there is no cause so potent in recruiting the ranks of the I. W. W. and the Reds of all sorts as the knowledge (common knowledge) that certain classes are practically immune from the law.

Miss Lucille Krause is a rich girl, a daughter of a U. S. Senator. She not only breaks the law but one of the most sacred laws, a law that is both written and moral. A law for the protection of the very lives of innocent people who have been all too often sacrificed by its neglect.

Because she is rich and a banker's daughter the Governor (the very governor of this great State) interests himself in her case, while poor men have been hung without obtaining such a favor.

Because she is rich neither her morals nor her reputation nor even her comforts are in jeopardy, for she is "snuggly" ensconced with all the little luxuries and conveniences that could be carried into her cell. To her it is something of a lark, and yet the Governor is interested, the law is possibly to be set at naught, the good and sturdy judge (who must have had rare courage) is to be deceived and the whole country given an example of how Justice bows to wealth and influence.

E. L. HUBBARD,
175 Grand Ave., Oakland, Cal.,
Feb. 29, 1920.

PUBLIC'S RESPONSIBILITY

To the Editor of The Tribune: In the heat of a righteous indignation the police and the police courts are being castigated. Might it not be well if we—the people—take some share of responsibility? Are we not prone to violate ordinances? Do we not step on the gas whenever we dare to? Who of us has not cut a corner, or come perilously near passing a motionless street car? How many of us allow our children to skate recklessly on the highways? How many temperamentally unfit drive heavy cars?

No public officials can enforce laws among a lawless populace, or one indifferent to right and wrong. Berkeley, February 27, 1920.

PLEAD STRAIGHT TRUTH.

A prize fighter who shows more ability than his fellows wants and can get a quarter of a million dollars for a single fight. A Charlie Chaplin in the moving-picture industry can command fabulous fees in a single year.

A genius is as rare in business as in railroading as in the prize-fighting on the screen. One genius amuses the other serves. One is spectacular, the other is not.

"Away with the genius in railroading!" cry advocates of the Plumb Plan. "We'll run the roads ourselves—and all other business. An elephant cannot climb a tree, nor can fifty of them combined do it, but it is quite a simple thing for a cat."

If an individual does not have the ability to administer a great railroad, he cannot do it even if fifty of him combine together in the task. What good were their enemies' fifty generals when the French had a Napoleon.—Manufacturers' Record.

A LIGHT IN THE DARKNESS.

Hunter Machine Company in North Adams will try the experiment of longer hours in the interest of increased production. It is done with the consent of all parties. It is an industrial spirit that ought to help.—Berkshire Eagle.

OVERPLAYING HAND.

It would be well if upon the apartment house owners the spirit of moderation might descend which has begun to work among dealers and manufacturers in building materials. Trade letters are quoted which declare present prices too high and which give warning of how, by undue inflation, a half decade of prosperous business may be narrowed to a fitful construction period of a year or a year and a half.

The same principle applies to the matter of renting dwellings. Profiteering in this direction is peculiarly offensive and conscienceless. From being oppressive to the individual it passes easily to the stage of being prejudicial to the public good. It adds itself as a powerful promoter of discontent to a list of agencies for popular unrest already far too long and active.

A fair return on invested money is one thing in the field of rents. A forced return on speculative prices for apartments is quite a different thing. Without placing undue credence in the prophets of calamity, landlords with a greed for the last penny may be warned of the danger of overplaying their hand. Paraphrasing the trade suggestion of the building materials men, one may vent out to the apartment house owners the wisdom of preferring long leases at reasonable rentals to a single year's reign of extortion preceding and provoking a collapse.—New York World.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

How You May Banish Some Pimple and Blackhead.

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG, A. D. M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University)

When the poet sang the words "beshrew my heart, but it is wondrous strange; surely, there is something more than witchcraft that masters even the wisest of us all," he was well aware that beauty in a woman is one of her most potent charms.

A maid who defies description at any age, cannot fascinate long if "the vulgaris," with its eruption, begins to exhibit its ugliness upon the face.

Pimples or acne is an outward manifestation of internal heat and disturbance. Pimples, blackheads and blackheads are the external signs of trouble inside the earth.

The large scars, pores, hardened and pitted skin left after pimples and blackheads have been squeezed are called "hyperkeratosis" by some snug and dignified medical pundits.

Inability completely to digest and to utilize sugars, starches, sweets and all "carbohydrates" are among the insidious disturbances.

Pimples and blackheads are seldom due to the same cause. Rearrangement of the bedroom, your work, food, habits and play are called for when these conditions are present. Your stomach and intestines must be made stronger and more active.

If the pimples have become hard, tough, white heads, a small, sharp, spearhead needle serves best for making an incision into them. The skin of the face and the instrument must be disinfected to prevent scars. Scars do not follow such incisions, but failure to cut into them and drain them often produces scars.

Ultra-violet rays emitted by a mercury-vapor lamp, placed two feet from the skin and administered once or twice a week for ten minutes, acts the same as sunbath and tones up the skin as it destroys the acne bacilli. The X-rays do almost as well, but do not kill the bacilli.

At night once a week, vigorous massage of the nose, cheeks, chin and affected parts with a pure soap helps to peel off the disfiguring blackheads and acne peaks and prepares the way for the application of a sulphur cream or lotion such as the following: Sulphate of zinc, one to four drams; and rosewater, two ounces. This is to be followed with applications of a mixture of sulphate of potash, one to four drams, and rosewater, two ounces.

If two drams of milk of sulphur are added to the above combination you will have a white, pleasant mixture without a sulphur odor or yellow color.

If scars, hard areas or large pores are present, bathe the face before and after the treatment is used with a sulphur cream or lotion such as the following: Sulphur ointment, 1 1/2 drams; zinc oxide ointment enough to make one ounce.

SECOND MAN IS EXPELLED FROM UNION

"Lorraine Perry, business agent of the Shipyard Laborers' Union and an active leader in the Boilermakers' Union, is the second to be expelled from the local Boilermakers' Union by action of the international officers of the Boilermakers' Union, it became known today.

Perry was suspended by resolution of his card as a member of the union on telegraphic orders from the international vice-president, Atkinson, which was read and acted upon at the regular meeting of the union Friday night. He is charged with being active in the organization of the One Big Union, an industrial union radical in principle.

Perry admits working for organization of the One Big Union. As union men explain, the order for suspension from the international office does not charge that the One Big Union is radical, but that it is a parallel organization in covering the same field as the American Federation of Labor.

Perry is the second to be dismissed in this manner. E. B. Wolff, for several years financial secretary of the Boilermakers' Union, having been suspended by orders from the international office a week ago.

Jury Tampering Inquiry in Wieler Trial Is Ordered

Jury tampering was alleged today in the trial of John C. Wieler, charged with criminal syndicalism, when Mrs. Ethel Buneman Wilhelm, residing at the Hotel Oakland, told the court that a man had called her on the phone last night and a woman this morning and asked her what her opinion was regarding the case. Mrs. Wilhelm declared she told both she could not talk about the case while serving on the jury.

Judge James C. Quinn immediately ordered the authorities to make an investigation and if possible apprehend the persons who had attempted to influence the juror. He further instructed the other jurors to communicate immediately to him if they were approached in any manner during the trial.

Attorney William B. Cleary for the defense asked the juror if she recognized the voices and Mrs. Wilhelm said she did not. T. L. Christianson, associate counsel, declared Mrs. Wilhelm should have made an attempt to trace the telephone calls.

Deputy District Attorney Wade

Snook, the trial opened with the testimony of Edward Condon, a newspaper reporter, who was present at the convention of the Communist Labor Party in Loring hall when alleged radical resolutions were adopted. Condon repeated his testimony given during the Whitney trial.

The jury trying the present case is composed of seven women and six men. Mrs. A. W. Foshay, 2 Monte avenue, Piedmont, being the alternate juror. The other twelve jurors are: Mrs. Kate Husband, Mrs. Maud B. Jones, George W. Howell, Jeremiah G. McGrath, W. H. Martin, Lavinia Smith, William Mercer, Jessie Quigley, Jacob Mueller, W. B. Bancroft, Ethel Wilhelm, Carrie M. Stortier.

The cases of P. Cowdery and Wieler, arrested November 3 on charges of criminal syndicalism, were called this morning in the police court of Judge George Samuels, but owing to the fact that the defendants were already under grand jury indictment and facing trial before the Superior Court, the cases were postponed until April 5.

Soldier Relief Meeting in House Breaks Up in Row

WASHINGTON, March 2.—Taking up for the first time the whole question of soldier relief legislation, the House ways and means committee got into a row today over procedure and broke up in some confusion after members had repeated charges made in the House that the measures had been sent to the committee for burial.

After heated exchanges between members the committee ordered the room cleared of the crowd of spectators and then in executive session finally decided to continue hearings tomorrow.

MISS WHITNEY BAIL APPEALS BRING REBUKE

That he did not receive any petitions from prominent persons asking for the release of Miss Charlotte Anna Whitney on bail and would have administered a stinging rebuke and possibly cited those responsible as being in contempt of court, was the declaration today of Judge James C. Quinn. He further declared that bail had been granted to Miss Whitney only because three reputable physicians had testified that further confinement in the county jail would days ago I informed them I would not consider their petitions and instructed them that if they had any facts to present why bail should be granted it would have to be done through Miss Whitney's counsel.

These remarks were called forth by the report that Senator James D. Phelan, Miss Jane Addams of Chicago and several church dignitaries of San Francisco, with many others, had signed petitions for the release of Miss Whitney on bail which were to be presented to Judge Quinn.

District Attorney Ezra Decoto also joined with Judge Quinn in declaring he had not received any such petition nor heard anything of it.

Miss Whitney, who was convicted under the State criminal syndicalism act after a three weeks' trial, was granted bail after three physicians, Dr. George D. Reine, Dr. Clarence A. De Puy and Dr. Arthur H. White, had testified that continued incarceration would impair her health. She was greeted outside the jail by a crowd of her women friends and ton.
